

Special offer!
Would you like to re-ignite the PASSION in all areas of your life?

Before summer comes, it is the opportunity to take time for your Self, to do some spring clean-up. To free yourself from the old and thus be able to start again for some or continue the year for others while living the Passion on a daily basis.

Have you had enough of waking up in the morning to start the same routine, as in the movie " the groundhog day"?

Have you had enough of feeling like a robot among other robots?

Everyone of us has the power to change their reality and to live passionately in all areas of our life;

In which areas of your life would you like to re-ignite the PASSION?

Interpersonal relationships (family, friends, colleagues...)

Love relationship

Work / Career

Your body (Health, Relaxation, Well-Being, Beauty)

Finances

Hobbies

Travel

If you have chosen two, three areas and more, you should consider doing the course.

Workshop : Spring Clean-up 2010 / Creating your dreams
Saturday, May 22nd, 2010, 10AM to 6PM

This workshop will allow you to discover the profound desires of your heart, to unearth your old hidden dreams, to resume what is important for you as well as your real values. To answer the question: "what ignites my passion"? You will discover the power to align yourself and to focus in order to be clear about your intentions and thus create your dreams. You will receive powerful tools, that have been experimented and that work.

« Like many people, I am a dreamer and I have a hard time being clear and precise about what I really want to accomplish. This workshop has allowed me to clear myself, focus and go get specific images that have allowed me thanks to the vision board, to vibrate with them everyday as I would see them. It works because it is really my essence and this is where this course totally makes a difference. It takes tools; alone in my home I can do a vision board, but without the tools, the space, the support and the group energy I would not have been able to go get the essential inside of me, what my heart shivers for, to identify my fears and to be equipped to overcome them in order to create what I really want. I have created big things, that I thought impossible and that have manifested in all sorts of unexpected ways. What a great gift! Lets say that the 300$ invested gave good returns more than once. »

January 2008

*« For me, the power of the creation course for the year 2008 after having participated in the completion course for the year 2007, has enabled me to make happen a dream that I had had for more than 3 years, to travel to the South with my partner. I discovered that I had the thought that "I did not deserve this trip" and also that "it was too good to be true". My partner and I went to Punta Cana in March 2008 for a week. In Fall, we went for a course in California that my boyfriend had invited me to. April 2010, we are planning now Eric and I to go, with Gabriel and Antoine and our two mothers to Cuba beginning of May. It is now the dream of many members of the family that comes true, it will be the first time ever in a plane for the kids. I also created my 5 speed-manual new car. My red dress, a fantasy dream from the year before, had materialized at the Christmas party, i dared to wear my famous red dress that i had found in a magazine, then on top of it, it was on sale...» February 2010, I finally went for jaw surgery, a major step in my orthodontic treatment. I am also renewing my Spring-Summer wardrobe, because I keep on increasing my self esteem and highlighting my femininity.
